Vocation Corner: What Are You Willing to Lay Down?

Rev. Keith Romke

Well, we've almost made it! Only one week left to go. If you are anything like me, one thing that you may have learned during Lent is that it can be extremely difficult to deny yourselves of the things and the pleasures that we enjoy that we have chosen to give up as a penance for Lent. It is way easier to want to do things our way!

Today, on Palm Sunday, we remember how when Jesus came into Jerusalem, the people welcomed him by lying palm branches down in front of him. In other words they laid living things at his feet. Perhaps as we realize that Jesus is desiring to enter our hearts at this time we might be inspired to lay down our very lives at his feet especially for the next week. Let us more than ever echo the words of Jesus in the garden: "Not my will but Thy will be done."
